VENTURA COUNTY PERMIT AND LICENSE GUIDE

VENTURA COUNTY PERMIT AND LICENSE GUIDE

Starting a new business is an exciting endeavor but navigating all of the requirements that a new business may need can be daunting. The Ventura County Permit and License Guide is designed to provide you with a starting point for the steps and the resources to set-up your new business. The requirements and regulations stated in this Guide may be incomplete or superseded by subsequent judicial, legislative or regulatory action. The information in this guide is intended to be accurate but it should be not relied on as legal advice. If you are in need of legal advice please contact a licensed California attorney.

Some businesses may be categorized as an industry that requires specific filing and compliance. In addition to the resources presented here and contacting an attorney, if necessary, it is recommended that you contact the city and state offices where your business will operate to ensure compliance with all requirements of business ownership for your industry and location.

CONFIRM PERMIT/LICENSE REQUIREMENTS:

The best thing you can do before you open your business and preferably during the research phase of your new venture, is to confirm all of the permit and license requirements necessary to maintain compliance with all local, state and national regulations. Do not make assumptions on which permits and licenses apply to your business and which do not. Be sure to receive confirmation from the different regulatory agencies. In addition to a general business license, there may be home occupational, health and safety and regulatory permits that apply specifically to your type of business.

If your business is located or operates in a city within Ventura County:

A good place to start is with your local city office. Contact information is listed below.

If your business is located or operates in an unincorporated area of Ventura County:

All residents of Ventura County who conduct business or have a business address located in the unincorporated areas of the county must obtain a County Business Tax Certificate from the Ventura County Treasurer-Tax Collector.

An additional County Regulatory Business License may also be required if your business is located in or conducts business in an unincorporated area AND your business activity is regulated by the Ventura County Sheriff's Office. See further information below in step #7.

PERMITS AND LICENSES

Opening a business legally while maintaining compliance with all permits and license requirements can be complicated but all Ventura County cities provide great customer service to facilitate business compliance and license requirements. To begin, use the checklist list below as a guide through the process.

STEPS TO OBTAINING BUSINESS PERMITS AND LICENSES:

1. Determine your business name.
2. Obtain a Fictitious Business Name (FBN), if necessary, and advertise the FBN in a local newspaper. See further information below.
3. Determine your business entity (if any).
4. Contact the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration for information on whether your business will need to file sales and use taxes. Apply for a seller's permit if your business will be reselling merchandise.
5. Research additional local and state taxes that may be applicable to your business.
6. Enroll with Stormwater Industrial General Permits, if necessary.
7. Apply for a business license with the city or unincorporated area of the county that your business will be located in.

1. Determine Business Name:

You will need to select a name for your business. It is important to select a name that is unique, non-descriptive and non-generic, otherwise you may later be prevented from using it and/or stopping others from benefitting from the good will you create.

- Check your proposed name availability on the CA Secretary of State's Name Reservation \(sos.ca.gov/business-programs/business-entities/name-reservations\) website.
- Conduct a "Google" search for your business name to identify business names that may be in use but have not been register with regulatory agencies.
- Use the United States Patent and Trademark Office website Trademark Electronic Search System \(TESS\) \(uspto.gov/trademarks/search\) to see if any trademark has already been registered or applied for that is live, similar to your business name or used on related products or for related services.

2. Obtain a Fictitious Business Name:

If you plan to conduct business in a name other than your surname or the business has more than one owner you must file a Fictitious Business Name and publish it in a newspaper. You must run an ad in a major newspaper within 30 days of filing, once a week for four weeks. A list of approved publications will be provided to you at the time of filing. Proof of the run must be submitted within 30 days of the final run to the County Clerk's Office.

- Sole Proprietorships requires FBN if it is doing business with a name that does not contain the last name of the owner.
- A partnership or other association requires an FBN if it is doing business with a name that does not include the last name of each general partner or a name that suggests the existence of additional owners.
- A limited partnership, corporation or Limited Liability Company requires an FBN if it will be doing business with a name not stated in the Articles of Incorporation or Articles of Organization filed with the California Secretary of State.

3. Determine Business Entity:

Prior to deciding what entity to select, it is important to make sure you understand the pros and cons of each. It may be worth discussing with a licensed California attorney. Depending on your business entity, you may need to register with the Secretary of State in addition to all other permits and licenses described in this document.

- If you choose to open your business as a sole proprietor, you cannot register with the Secretary of State.
- For a general partnership you may register with the Secretary of State if you wish to do so.
- For a corporation (either stock or nonprofit), a limited liability company or a partnership (limited or limited liability), you must file with the Secretary of State's Office.

4. Register with the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration:

This state agency is the governing body for sales and use tax and issues Seller's Permits. Any business that sells tangible personal property needs to obtain a State resale permit tax number from the California Department of Tax and Fee Administration. To determine if your business requires such a permit, you may first contact them by telephone. Be sure to check with the department below to determine if sales or use tax is applicable to your product or service and do not make assumptions that sales and use tax is not applicable to your business's product or service. Learn more at CDTFA \(cdtfa.ca.gov\).

To determine if your business requires such a permit, you may first contact them by telephone. Be sure to check with the department below to determine if sales or use tax is applicable to your product or service and do not make assumptions that sales and use tax is not applicable to your business's product or service. Learn more at CDTFA (cdtfa.ca.gov/formspubs/pub107/#permit).

This certification can only be issued by a business with a valid seller's permit. There are many ways to issue a resale certificate. 5. State and Local Taxes:

It is important that you research what additional local and state taxes may be applicable to your business. Review the information below to get started.

Local Taxes: Business personal property tax may apply to your business. Be sure to check with your local assessor's office to remain in compliance.

Note that the Ventura County Assessor's Division is not the same as the Ventura County Treasurer Tax Collector (see their information above).*

6. Enroll with Stormwater Industrial General Permits:

On October 2, 2019, the State of California passed Senate Bill 205, effective January 1, 2020, requiring certain regulated businesses to demonstrate enrollment with Stormwater Industrial General Permits (IGP) before cities may issue, or renew, a local business license. To determine if your business needs to enroll and comply with these requirements, review the following steps:

1. Determine the primary Standard Industry Classification (SIC) Code(s) for your business using SIC Search (osha.gov/data/sic-search) or NAICS/SIC crosswalk (naics.com/naics-to-sic-crosswalk-2) if you know your NAICS. If you have questions or need assistance, email tax.collector@ventura.org and they can assist you with finding the best fit.
2. Determine whether the SIC code is one required to enroll in the State IGP program at IGP-regulated codes (waterboards.ca.gov/water_issues/programs/stormwater/sicnum.html).
3. If the SIC code is a regulated code, enroll the business under the State's IGP SMART tracking system (smarts.waterboards.ca.gov/smarts/faces/SwSmartsLogin.xhtml) and then continue to step #5.
4. If the SIC code for your business IS NOT a regulated code, continue with your business license form and skip step #5.

5. Provide one of the following to the County of Ventura with your business license renewal: WDID application # and WDID, or NONA, or NEC.

For more information visit the Ventura County Tax Collector \(ventura.org/ttc/bl/\) website or call the Stormwater Program Manager 805.645.1382 or the Stormwater Quality Hotline 805.650.4064.

7. Apply for Your Business License:

Now that you have completed the steps above you can contact the city that you will be conducting business in to apply for your business license. All cities in Ventura County require a business license in order to operate. Visit your City Hall in person or online to obtain an application. At the time of filing the application, a fee must be paid and varies depending on the size and type of business. The license must be posted in plain sight at your place of business and must be renewed annually.

Please contact your local city office using the contact information table on page 2.
