EDC BUSINESS ALERT

EDC SELECTED AS A BEST PLACE TO WORK!

On Thursday, June 23, the Economic Development Collaborative was recognized as a best place to work at the Pacific Coast Business Times' annual Best Places to Work event. Every year, the Pacific Coast Business Times posts a survey for anyone in the region to score their workplace and explain why their they should be considered as a best place to work. This year, the survey was taken by nearly 1,200 people.

The Economic Development Collaborative was recognized as the 4th best place to work among small employers across Ventura, Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo Counties, based on our culture, benefits, perks, community involvement and more.

In the Pacific Coast Business Times article recognizing the EDC, President/CEO Bruce Stenslie noted, "To receive a recognition as a best place to work is by its very nature, a recognition of shared responsibility, shared joy, shared camaraderie and culture."

And while the EDC was recognized among small employers, the EDC also contracts with almost 60 business advisors that have helped our Small Business Development Center provide no-cost business advising since 2010.
